A wedding ceremony of marked dignity and beauty was celebrated Friday evening at the First Presbyterian church, uniting in marriage Miss Mary Edith Cole of San Diego, Cal., and Captain Earl McFarland of the United States army. The service, which began at 8:30 o'clock, was conducted by Rev. J. A. Renwick. A bank of palms was arranged at the front of the church, and in the center of the bank, a large basket of pink roses. At each end of the rows of green was draped the national colors, and at the back of the palms and partly concealed by them, was a large American flag. A bouquet of Killarney roses and fern was fastened by strands of pink tulle to the end of each of the pews down the center aisle, outlining the bridal path. These bouquets were used instead of ribbons, and were both novel and beautiful. Mr. Lee Forbes, who furnished the wedding music, played the Lohengrin Wedding March for the entrance of the bride party. Rev. Mr. Renwick, Captain McFarland, and his best man, Mr. Hugh McFarland, entered through the door at the right of the pulpit, the ushers, Mr. Bruce McFarland, Mr. James McFarland, Mr. Robert Steele, Mr. Roy Thompson, Mr. Howel Jones, Jr., and Mr. Clay Hamilton came from the rear entrance. After the ushers, the maid of honor, Miss Nell McFarland, marched, carrying a shepherdess basket of pink roses. Her gown was an embroidered lace over pink meshing. It was made with a short waist, round neck, and short sleeves. Last came the bride, charmingly pretty and self-possessed. Her gown was an exquisite creation of hand-made Duchesse net bordered with French lace, made over white chiffon satin. The short sleeved bodice was worn with long white gloves, and the narrow skirt was made with a pointed train. The bride veil was edged with lace to match that of the dress, and was caught in the hair with a wreath of orange blossoms. The shower bouquet was made of lilacs of the valley and orchids. The tout ensemble was perfect. The bride's mother, Mrs. John Cole, gave her daughter in marriage. Captain McFarland's military friends, who were his classmates, are most of them stationed great distances from Topeka, so that it was impracticable for him to have a military wedding, though the decoration in the national colors, and the bridegroom, dressed in full regimentals, handsome, and soldierly in bearing, were significant of the army life to which he belongs.

For all around wear a hat in the style of the one shown is practicable.

It shades the face, sets far down on the head, thus eliminating the use of many hat pins and still conforms to modish lines. The trimming, too—one of the season's novelties—is another recommendation. This is of white batiste tied in a flat, many-looped bow in the back, each loop being edged with ball trimming. The hat itself is of coarse natural color straw. Wash materials for hat trimming and even for the hats themselves are among the millinery innovations. One of the latest novelties is a hat made of Turkish toweling. This for beach wear.

An array of wedding gifts for the bride and bridegroom of Friday evening are at the J. D. McFarland home waiting to be packed and shipped. The collection contains quantities of silver, brass, hand embroidered linen, rugs, pictures and books, and three noticeably handsome brass plates, for the serving of the "caviare" to the general.

An engagement that is not officially announced, but which is of special interest to Topeka people, is that of Miss Hazel Grimes and Mr. Dennis C. Payne of Port Stockton, Texas. Topeka still claims Miss Grimes as one of "her own girls," for she lived here most of her life, until about a year ago, when her people moved to Texas. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grimes, who came to Topeka a good many years ago, when Mr. Grimes was state treasurer. For a long time he was a business man of Topeka, and a figure in state politics. Miss Grimes came to Topeka in the early spring to visit her sister, Mrs. Monte Kistler, and at that time she told her friends of her engagement, and parties and showers were given for her by the girls of her set. Mr. Payne was here for a short time during her visit, and was one of the guests at a party which Miss Kistler gave for her sister, so that her friends were given opportunity to meet him. His former home was in Milan, Mo. He is a graduate of the Missouri university, the State Normal school and the law department of the university. Soon after his graduation he was elected county attorney, and afterwards went to Port Stockton, where he is now practicing law. Miss Grimes graduated from the Topeka high school and attended the College of the Sisters of Bethany two years. She was one of the most popular of the society girls of the younger set, and quite deservedly so; for she is a girl of pleasing personality and attractiveness. The circle of her most intimate girl friends in Topeka includes Miss Elizabeth Holliday, Miss Marie Lagerstrom, Miss Dorothy Porter, Miss Esther Rodgers, Miss Clyde Bonebrake, and other girls of that set. The date of the wedding is not decided upon, and it may be some time before the marriage takes place.

The local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Sons of the Revolution will celebrate the Fourth of July next Tuesday afternoon, with the members of the Old Settlers' association of Shawnee county, at the farm of Henry McAfee on the West Sixth street road. Invitations have been sent out by Mrs. Albrecht Marburg, regent of the Topeka chapter D. A. R., by Mr. J. M. Meade, president of the Sons of the Revolution, and by Miss Caroline Demming, secretary of the Old Settlers' association. An interesting program is being prepared for the meeting, which will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Dr. Thomas Young of Denver, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church of Topeka, and Mrs. Young and their family, are guests of friends in Topeka. Mrs. S. L. Courtney will give a reception for them and for Dr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon and their family at her home, 725 Topeka avenue, Monday evening, from 7:30 to 10:30. Dr. Gordon has come to Topeka from Milwaukee to take the pastorate of the Baptist church. Mrs. Courtney will be assisted by some of the women of the church. No invitations have been issued for the reception, and all of the friends of the congregation and other friends of Rev. and Mrs. Young and their family are asked to call.

The accompanying drawing shows a smart but simple frock easily made by the home dressmaker. This has a tunic of old gold chiffon falling over an under slip of self-toned satin. Gold tulle fills the neck and sleeves. Around the "V" shaped corsage, the bottom of the elbow sleeves and edging the skirt portion of the tunic on bottom and front is a banding of gilt embroidery. A narrow width of old gold velvet marks the high waist line and a flat bow of the same finishes the point of the corsage.

The first of the Y. W. C. A. Friday evening "at home" will be given July 7 from 8 to 10 o'clock p. m. Miss Irene Welshan's pupils in expression will furnish a program. The guests will be received by the members of the social committee, who are: Mrs. T. R. Paxton, Mrs. W. E. Bowen, Mrs. E. C. Brownell, Mrs. C. A. Wolfe, Mrs. Hester, Miss Anna Hartburg, Miss Selma Foberg, Miss Marcia Brown, Miss Katherine Marlet, Miss Clara Marlet, Miss Lenore Bates, Miss Sarah Huston and Miss Mary McClure. No invitations are issued, but all members of the association are asked to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Henry Shaulier of Kansas City, Mo., have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Leona Margaret Dwyer to Mr. Edward Walker. The wedding will take place at 8:30 o'clock, Sat-

A SOUTHERN BEAUTY OF DISTINGUISHED ANCESTRY.

Washington, July 1.—Washington society was recently stirred by the visit of Mrs. Walter W. Watts, on the score of her personal charm and her family affiliations. Through her father, Mr. W. E. Reed of Savannah, who held a commission in the Confederate Army, she is a descendant of Revolutionary notables and the Reeds of New England of which latter family, Thos. B. Reed was a member. Through her mother the blood of several distinguished Virginian and North Carolina families runs in her veins. Mrs. Watts is also a Daughter of the American Revolution.

Monday evening, July 3, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. Walker formerly lived in Topeka, and his friends will be interested to know of his approaching marriage.

Miss Mary Holt gave an informal dinner party Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Alice Spencer of St. Joseph, Mo., and Miss Helene Harvey of St. Louis. Covers were laid for: Miss Spencer, Miss Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holt, Miss Lett, Watson, Miss Holt, Mr. Earl Williams, Mr. Clifford Deppie and Mr. Jack Henderson.

Why We Advertise
I believe that seven-tenths of all headaches have their origin in strained vision. I also know that correctly fitted glasses will entirely relieve the headaches by removing the cause. Scarcely a day passes, but I relieve some sufferer through my knowledge of making and fitting glasses. I am anxious that all sufferers should know there is a remedy so simple. This is one reason why I advertise.
